Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 25 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Christmas Day cloudy with light rain dying out. Cold wind.

Today:
A damp, misty start to Christmas Day with some patchy light rain. Turning drier for the afternoon with a little brightness mainly across Norfolk and sunny spells near some coasts later. Feeling chilly with rather strong easterly winds. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tonight:
A cloudy night across the region with rain arriving from the southwest after midnight, with a wet end to the night likely. Remaining dry across far eastern parts. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Sunday:
Boxing Day cloudy with morning rain dying out slowly and turning showery. Milder air arriving later with misty conditions developing and higher ground becoming shrouded in fog. Lighter winds. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday rather cloudy and mainly dry with rain likely for Tuesday and temperatures near normal. Wednesday perhaps milder as windy weather probably spreads across the region with further rain.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.